

Finding a rental dwelling or commercial building is now easy with AshiRo.ca

Jul 31, 2018

A dedicated online billboard www.ashiro.ca for Canadian rental properties is launched.

Every year home seekers begin their new life and look for a rental place in around the city. Similarly, entrepreneurs begin their dream business and look for a commercial place. Today, these tenants find it very difficult to locate rental property of their own choice and within budget. Many have pre-set mind and they look for a place of their choice. In short, tenants do not wait for the office to be open instead they find things at their own convenient time. Their first response is searching for sources over the internet and their search ends at www.ashiro.ca.

At AshiRo Rentals, tenants can search for rental place with the help of its excellent search functionality. Visitors can post messages at interactive forum. Prospective tenants can subscribe for alerts and receive notifications by email with matching rental places.

Who can use this online service?

Newcomers, students, business owners & new entrepreneurs, etc. who are looking for a rental place can use it free of charge and they can see the advertiser's contact information without having to register online. They just need to quote ashiro.ca when enquiring about the advertised rental.

Who can register here?

AshiRo.ca offers an online platform for property managers, rental property agents and property owners conveniently publish their one or more rental properties. It provides tools to publish, share, track and receive feedback from prospective tenants resulting in savings in time and money. Built-in features allow them to link or upload the rental application form, mark property as rented, show/hide from public searches, and mark as premium property and make it appear on top of the search results.

Here one can advertise rental properties such as Apartments, Houses, Offices, Condos, Multiunit, Rooms, Student, Old Age Living, Basements, Townhouses, Low rise, High rise, Industrial, Vacation, Retail, Commercial, Shops, Farm, Shared, Short Term, Storage, etc. are advertised on this billboard.

Benefits:

Running online ads gets your brand name in front of your online prospects 24 hours daily and at fraction of advertising cost compared to other non-online media.

Your audience is here: This site receives rich quality traffic. Majority of new and returning visitors are searching for rental places here. Visit the site and see the real-time search stats for last three months.

Free one rental advertisement: With a free account, you can publish one rental property at no cost. Later you can upgrade to business account and advertise unlimited rental properties until those rented.

Excellent search functionality: With its excellent search functionality, tenants are able to find their dream home here.

Site is extensively visible on social media: This site is visible at some of the most popular social media sites. Therefore, your advertisement gets good exposure.

Alert service for tenants: When a rental place is advertised here, subscribers are alerted.

Advertiser's contact information is visible to prospective tenants: There is no middle person between prospects and advertiser. Tenant easily finds contact information of their most likeable rental place and call or email for booking.

Consistency and seamless efforts:

The billboard is marketed on social media and it has tools by which prospective tenants are notified when you add a property. Most of the properties being rented when a new property is advertised here. www.ashiro.ca is a Canadian product in the truest sense. Website is operated by KishMan Solutions, a Canadian business.